R.E.M.
FRIDAY APRIL 26 1985
SUNY BINGHAMTON
WEST GYM

REMEMBER WHEN:

-we thought biochem would be relevant
-we thought Bud was just a doorman (then discovered that he secretly keeps Hahnemann running)
-we trusted noteservice
-we needed to wear a coat in Geary Auditorium — in the summer!
-we thought we would get a student recreation lounge
-we thought that Hahnemann was just pass/fail (then found a ranking system used in the Dean's Letter)
-they showed X-rated movies in psychology class (Really, there were only 3 students there. The rest of you missed it.)
-Stiles was roach-free (I didn't think you would remember)
-you spent more money at Rittenhouse bookstore than Hahnemann's
-you thought those $100 books would be "good to have on your shelves"
-you paid $200 for an opthalmoscope and then decided to go into pathology
-Dr. Ladman said: "The breast is nothing more than a modified sweat gland — but ooaaaooh what a sweat gland"
-we looked forward to Phil's noteservice jokes (well, I did)
-we thought it was possible for all the escalators to work at one time
-we had money; we had a social life; we could get 8 hours of sleep in one night
-we didn't need Maalox more than our patients did — aaah my ulcer
-we learned good nutrition in biochem but never got to use it
-everything you owned smelled like the anatomy lab
-tuition was only $15,000
-noon meant lunch
-we thought financial aid would get our papers right the first time — and we'd get our loans in September
-we knew what money looked like
-the word scut needed an explanation
-we thought our first clinical evaluations would reflect our efforts
-we were optimistic about having the Dean's office do our schedules

Well, those times are behind us now. If you remember medical school fondly, you will have those memories orever. If medical school was nothing but stress and anxiety, residency couldn't be worse. Or could it?

Danny Broad, although not actively courted by prestigious residencies, was nonetheless considered a real "sleeper" among his peers.

Rebecca, overwhelmed by the gravitational effect of her own hair, lies helplessly on her apartment floor, awaiting Sunil's rescue.

Ross, privy to the notion that asphyxiation can intensify orgasm, unwittingly executes this act deep in the depths of leep.

Chuck, delirious from meningeal irritation, still has the wits to perform an autonomous Babinsky test.

Daina, aflicted by absence seizures since birth, derives a peculiar sense of pleasure from this momentary electrical chaos.

Cut throat ideations turn stethoscopes into weapons.

Bud Hefllin, a pillar of Hahnemann stability and recipient of last year's Golden Apple Award, has just been informed by Igbal Paroo that he would not be included among those recently laid off.

The good news is: Monmouth for the month of July. The bad news is: Ellen Cosgrove's service.

Alyssa is thunderstruck because she:

a) Has just been informed by the NBME that she achieved the only perfect score in the country.

b) Spotted Dr. Snipes, a frequent visitor of the game room, at the 17th floor nurse's station.

c) Has just been implicated in the Crozer Chester Library's book stealing scandal.

d) Has just been informed that her B-HCG is +.

SELECTION CRITERIA

Hahnemann University School of Medicine seeks to admit persons from a wide spectrum of experience and backgrounds with the goal of obtaining a heterogeneous group of mature, thoughtful and dedicated students. The School particularly encourages applications from members of cultural and economic groups underrepresented in the medical profession who possess the motivation and aptitude for the study of medicine.

Medicine forces human beings to experience the full spectrum of life from its kindest to its cruelest moments. We are fortunate to have such a great tool at our disposal, for in our workings of it we can come to know our fellow man in his most human form. With any luck, through this focus we will come to see that all things good and evil have a purpose which may be hidden at present but is made manifest with the passage of time.

Dear Father Hesburgh,

They've got me flat on my back...with plaster, sandbags and hot water bottles. It took the last three instruments to do it however, I've contrived a way of pumping the bed up a bit so that, with a long reach, I can get to my typewriter...my mind...my brain...my fingers.

Two things prompt this note to you, sir. The first is that whenever my cancer acts up...and it is certainly "acting up" now, I turn inward a bit. Less do I think of my hospitals around the world, or of ninety-four doctors, fund raising and the like. More do I think of the one divine Doctor, and my own personal fund of grace. Is it enough?

It has become pretty definite that the cancer has spread to the lumbar vertebrae, accounting for all of the back problems over the last two months. I have monstrous phantoms...as all men do. But I try to exorcise them with all the fury of the middle ages. And inside and outside the wind blows...

But just now..and just so many times how I long for the grotto. Away from the Grotto, Dooley just prays. But at the Grotto, especially now when there must be snow everywhere and the lake is ice glass and that triangular fountain on the left is frozen solid and all the priests are bundled in their too-large too-long black coats and the students wear snow boots...if I could go to the Grotto now, then I think I could sing inside...

Won't take any more of your time, did just want to communicate for a moment, and again offer my thanks to my beloved Notre Dame. Though I lack a certain bouyancy in my bones just now, I lack none in my spirit. I must return to the states very soon, and I hope to sneak into that Grotto...before the snow has melted.

My best wishes to the students, regards to the faculty, and respects to you.

Very Sincerely,
Tom Dooley

and always give you support!
May He reward your dedication, and regard with favor all your sacrifices!

May He grant you your heart's desire,
and fulfill all your plans!
May we shout for joy over your victories,
and in the name of God set up your banners!
May the Lord fulfill all your petitions!

Now I know that the Lord will help His anointed;
He will answer us from His holy heaven
With mighty victories from His right hand.
Some boast of riches, and some of fame;
But we boast of the name of the Lord our God.
They will collapse and fall;
but we shall rise and stand upright.

Give us victory, O Lord: answer us when we call.

Psalm 20

"It seems to me I am trying to tell you a dream — making a vain attempt, because no relation of a dream can convey a dream-sensation, that commingling of absurdity, surprise, and bewilderment in a tremor of struggling revolt, that notion of being captured by the incredible which is of the very essence of dreams. . . . No, it is impossible; it is impossible to convey the life-sensation of any given epoch of one's existence — that which makes its truth, its meaning — its subtle and penetrating essence. It is impossible. We live, as we dream — alone . . . . "

No one will ever get out of this world alive. Resolve therefore to maintain a reasonable sense of values.

Take care of yourself. Good health is everyone's major source of wealth. Without it, happiness is almost impossible.

Resolve to be cheerful & helpful. People will repay you in kind.

Avoid angry, abrasive persons. They are generally vengeful.

Avoid zealots. They are generally humorless.

Resolve to listen more & to talk less. No one ever learns anything by talking.

Be chary of giving advice. Wise men don't need it & fools won't heed it.

Resolve to be tender with the young, compassionate with the aged, sympathetic with the striving & tolerant of the weak & the wrong. Sometime in life you will have been all of these.

Do not equate money with success. There are many successful moneymakers who are miserable failures as human beings. What counts most about success is how a person achieves it.

PHIL,
As far as we are concerned you'll always be a member of the class of '90.

In our thoughts, we miss you,

See you at the reunion.

Class of '90

Hahnemann students are well known locally for their unyielding commitment to community activities.

Joe, somewhat impressionable and insecure, returns home after seeing Fatal Attraction.

To the Class of 1990: Cent Anni -The "Don" & The "Kid."

Fred Bonanni, dressed here in Simian garb, is clearly ignorant of stranger anxiety, a well-documented phenomenon in infants.

Becky, an opponent of Retinoic acid's efficacy in deceasing wrinkles, embarks upon a clinical trial of her own, feeling that 2 oversized bagels placed on one's face each morning for 10 minutes works just as well.

Jon, a strong opponent of sexual exploitation in film, is happy to offer Jeff & Guy a PG-13 flick.

Holy Nosocomial Infections!
WASH YOUR HANDS!

Batman, much to his chagrin, is not a recognized ID expert despite completing a fellowship at Hahnemann in the early '70's.

Chuck, a future neurosurgeon, informs an elated Gumby of the successful removal of Pokey's astrocytoma.

To the Hahnemann University School of Medicine Graduates, 1990:

"Cherish your doubts, for doubt is the handmaiden of truth. Doubt is the key to the door of knowledge; it is the servant of discovery. A belief which may not be questioned binds us to error, for there is incompleteness and imperfection in every belief.

Doubt is the touchstone of truth; it is an acid which eats away the false.

Let none fear for the truth, the doubt may consume it; for doubt is a testing of belief.

For truth, if it be truth, arises from each testing stronger, more secure. Those who would silence doubt are filled with fear; the house of their spirit is built on shifting sands.

But they that fear not doubt, and know its use, are founded on a rock.

They shall walk in the light of growing knowledge; the work of their hand shall endure.

Therefore, let us not fear doubt, but let us rejoice in its help: It is to the wise as a staff to the blind; doubt is the handmaiden of truth."

EASTON
HOSPITAL

Easton Hospital Residency Programs

University Affiliation.
As a major teaching affiliate of Hahnemann University School of Medicine, Easton Hospital is the site for regular third year medical and surgical rotations; fourth year medical and surgical electives; and internal medicine, surgery, and transitional year residencies of outstanding quality.

High Passing Rates.
Easton residents pass their examinations! In addition, Easton Hospital has an outstanding record for placing graduates in quality subspecialty programs.

Hands-On Experience.
Our dynamic combination of "learning by doing" plus excellent supervision brings results: our graduating surgical residents were recently rated better than the 90th percentile in the number of complex surgical procedures performed.

Patient Diversity.
The wide variety of clinical pathology diagnosed and treated at Easton Hospital's state-of-the-art facility is comparable to that experienced at university centers. Most of our patients are diagnosed and treated first at Easton Hospital, not after evaluation elsewhere.

Excellent Practice Opportunities.
Young physicians seeking to start a practice find the metropolitan area surrounding Easton a "land of opportunity." The Lehigh Valley offers an attractive environment, a rapidly growing professional population, low unemployment and proximity to NYC and Philadelphia -- ideal for establishing successful medical practices.

Let Easton Hospital show you how our programs can help prepare you for a successful and fulfilling career.
Call the Director of the Department of Medicine, Dr. Kenneth Wildrick (215-250-4013) or the Director of the Department of Surgery, Dr. George Watkins (215-250-4014).

THINK SKIN!

This sculpture, "The Bearers of Light," represents a three-dimensional view of the optic system - retina, optic nerves, optic chiasma and the optic tracts. It is a tool for the student of anatomy - one that brings enlightenment to his education. This tool is part of Hahnemann's vision of education, through which you have learned the art of healing.

Congratulations and best wishes,

We're moving right along! From the horse-drawn ambulance of the 1890s to the 1912 Packard . . . to the University MedEvac helicopter . . . we have been bringing our patients in style . . . to the best possible care available. In the 1890s it was antiseptic surgery, tender care and concern . . . today it is MRI and transplants and monoclonal antibodies . . . in 2000 what will it be?

You will provide the answers. You have been educated to move medicine into the 21st century, to develop the techniques and the materials for even better health and to provide them always with the same care and concern.

Take with you our admiration
And our best wishes as you advance in your profession.

Here's To My Family, THE GREATEST IN THE WORLD !!!!!!

To My Mother, Ruth Mary Egger Kim:

You gave me your golden wisdom, encouragement, and support. From day 1 at school until now-I could not have done it without you! You deserve the M.D.
Thanks, mom.

In Honor Of My Father, Theodore Hyun Kim, M.D.:

Who gave me all the opportunities of the universe, and taught me everything I could learn in a lifetime. You made it possible for me to get through medical school.
Thanks, dad.

To Steven Glenn Summers, My Fiance:

Glenn - we did it! All of this would have been impossible without you! "It's you and me against the world, kid. And you know, I think we've got 'em outnumbered." (- S. G. Summers)

ATLANTIC CITY
MEDICAL CENTER

Atlantic City Division
1925 Pacific Avenue, Atlantic City. 609-344-4081

Atlantic City Medical Center is a two division, 615 bed hospital system located at the beautiful southern New Jersey shore. Our medical staff and employees are devoted to quality care individualized to meet the unique needs of every patient. We take pride in our services, state-of-the-heart equipment, and in the vital role we play within the community and surrounding area.

Our medical staff is highly skilled in the practice of 13 medical specialties and 15 subspecialties. Our facilities house the regional Neo-natal Intensive Care Unit, the Ruth Newman Shapiro Regional Cancer Center, Cardiac Catheterization Laboratory and two of the busiest Emergency Departments in the nation.

Atlantic City Medical Center values its affiliation with Hahnemann University. Many of our medical staff are Hahnemann graduates, and we take pride in our close ties with the many fine students who have participated in our training programs.

MC
NEIL YOUNG

June 1, 1990

Dear Medic reader:

The theme of this yearbook was meant to poke fun at life as we have lived it for the past 4 years. In no way were we advocating the advertising or use of cigarettes. As physicians we all know the hazards of smoking and need to encourage others to take a notice of the warnings.

Although at times medical school has been somewhat hazardous to our health with the sleepless nights, high carbohydrate and fat diets, excess caffeine intake, etcetera, we've all managed to survive and even have fun. Not one of us can deny that we've grown a lot both personally and professionally during our time at Hahnemann. We wish everyone the best of luck always.

WE'VE COME A LONG WAY!!!

Sincerely,
Yearbook Staff
